This is the latest map of the Desire property. Please refer to it when making your room requests. Desire will take requests into consideration when assigning rooms. However, please understand that they will be given out on a first come basis depending on what is available when you arrive. We can give no guarantee that your request will be honored, but will do our best to assist your needs.

All buildings have two levels, some with two rooms on each lever, others with more. Building 10 has the largest “Non-suite” rooms, but they are not as nicely decorated as the other units and the “Garden View” rooms in this building face the swamp on the west side of the resort. All other rooms face east and are considered “Ocean View” if you can see the ocean from the unit. They are not all on the ocean. Some units have King size beds and others smaller “Queen” beds that are closer in size to a “Double” bed. Other than that they are all very similar inside. The units on the left of the map are the furthest from the pool and restaurants, but are also the quietest. Those near building 10 get noise from the Hot Tub deck on the roof, and those near the center can get noise from the Disco. Neither area gets as loud as some rooms at Heddo. The Hot tub area gets louder than the disco because it’s outside.

Please send me your room requests in order of preference. For example I request a King bed, close to pool, ground floor as my biggest concern is a bed longer than my legs. Others request certain favorite rooms first. I also need to know if you want your name and /or E-mail address made available to the others in our group. I’ve attached a simple form you may make entries on.

Thanks,
 Big Bare
